Welcome!
Arlington Campus Library (ACL) bids all new and returning students and faculty a hearty welcome! Please remember that ACL is a full-service library and we are here to assist you in finding the information to satisfy your research needs.

Check This Out:
George Mason University Libraries’ homepage (http://library.gmu.edu) has been redesigned to make patrons access to information resources easier. Check it out yourself or come to one of our scheduled training sessions to learn more.

How Do I Find…….?:
How and where do you search for and locate an article that you think appeared in The Economist six months ago? Do you know how to find information in Dow Jones Interactive? Can you perform an advanced search using AltaVista? What about the great search engine NorthernLight? And where is the best place to find the latest quarterly economic indicators of Kuwait? Come to one of our scheduled database training sessions before class and learn about increasing your searching powers.

For times, please call the library (703-993-8188) or make an appointment for a one-on-one session.

Also, remember that we are here to help you with your information needs, so don’t hesitate to ask. There are two librarians available:

Laura Burns, Head (703) 993-8228
Andrew Lee (Public Policy and International Affairs) (703) 993-8268

or email us at: aclnode@gmu.edu

Database Access
• For a listing of databases relevant to International Commerce and Policy, point your browser to: http://library.gmu.edu/resources/subject.html and select “Business and International Commerce”.

Extra Services
Consortium Loan Service (CLS): Students and faculty may now borrow books directly from other WRLC (Washington Research Library Consortium) libraries, rather than using the standard interlibrary loan procedures common to all libraries. For details see: http://library.gmu.edu/libinfo/cls.html

Assistive Technology Room: Specially designed for patrons with disabilities, computers in this room feature software to assist in reading information and converting printed materials to voice and vice versa. Please contact Andrew Lee at (703) 993-8268 for assistance.

Course Reserves: Faculty may place materials on reserve in Arlington. Please contact Nancy Klein, the Reserves Coordinator, at (703) 993-8273.
