

George Mason University Application for the University Libraries' Registered Student Organization Fellowship

The Registered Student Organization Fellowship (RSO Fellowship) is awarded annually to an academic or service-oriented Registered Student Organization (RSO) at George Mason University to provide a space for community building with the University Libraries and within the RSO. In addition to having available space for RSO meetings, the Fellowship awards funds for library-centered events or programming. Any RSO with an academic or service-oriented mission is eligible and encouraged to apply. The selection committee will be especially interested in Fellowship applications with a vision for how they might collaborate with the University Libraries during the academic year.

- Please complete the application on the next page - only one is needed per RSO.
- Your application should be accompanied by a statement of support from your RSO's faculty advisor or another George Mason faculty member. They can find a link to their application on the RSO Fellowship Webpage.
